

BECOME A PATIENT SAFETY CHAMPION

Patient safety has long been discussed in professional circles and we are beginning to see wonderful changes and a rise in accountability across organizations. However, systems and processes alone cannot speak for the concerns of patients. They can reduce known risks, but we are still usually blinded to the patient's reality.

P4PSI is a venture to collaborate with patients and patient groups on safety through education and experience-sharing while ensuring a channel for anonymized, but productive dialogue.

Anyone can become a patient safety champion by becoming educated and enabling the further spread of information to patients and caregivers.
